We Are NORTHERN!

We Are Northern! The Section's rally cry for 2015 was perfect, as USTA Northern proved it is small, but mighty. The Section was guided by its core values of accountability, commitment and teamwork, inclusiveness, integrity and service and strategic priorities of Adult/ Senior Opportunities, Youth/ Junior Opportunities, Community Tennis and People/ Resources/Structure.

Life Time Fitness founder and CEO Bahram Akradi (Minnetonka, Minn.) was named Tennis Industry magazine's Person the Year and junior player Jessie Aney (Rochester, Minn.) was named the 2015 Bill Talbert National Junior Sportsmanship Award winner. InnerCity Tennis (Minneapolis, Minn.) was named the 2015 National CTA of the Year, Tennis Industry's CTA of the Year and was one of 13 facilities honored with the USTA National Outstanding Facility Award. USTA League player Dale Chilton (South St. Paul, Minn.) was one of three people featured in the USTA's "Find Yourself in the Game" campaign and the Section inducted Bill Babcock (London, England), Fred Budde (Eagan, Minn.), the late John Mueller (Minneapolis, Minn.) and Steve Paulsen (Apple Valley, Minn.) into the USTA Northern Hall of Fame.

Northern also saw the Champions Tour make a stop in Minneapolis and James Blake come to Sioux Falls, S.D., helping celebrate the grand opening of Huether Family Match Pointe. The Twin Cities' 55 and Over Men's 6.0 team won the USTA League National Championship and Darren Iverson (Faribault, Minn.) set the Guinness World Records (2015) for most consecutive matches played at 35. Suzie Heideman of Woodbury, Minn., was named to the USTA National No-Cut All-Star team and was named the Professional Tennis Registry's National High School Coach of the Year and Ron Jacobus (Lakeville, Minn.), Vyasachar Mohan (Maplewood, Minn.) and Jan Schreier (Minnetonka, Minn.) officiated at the US Open.

USTA Northern junior players also made their mark nationally as Ingrid Neel (Rochester, Minn.) played in the Wimbledon Girls Championship before coming back to the United States and winning the Girls 18s National Hardcourt doubles title earning a spot in the main draw of women's doubles at the 2015 US Open (she won her first-round match). Neel also played in the Girls US Open event and won two professional doubles titles in 2015. Aney was also named the Girls Sportsmanship winner at the US Clay Court championships and the USTA Spring Team Championships and Hunter Heck (New Brighton, Minn.) won both the 12s singles and doubles title at the Easter Bowl and was ranked #1 in the country in Boys 12s doubles. The Edina High School girls continued their dominance as they won their record setting 19th straight team title, while there was a new boys champion crowned in North Dakota as Fargo South defeated Grand Forks Red River and ended their 17-year run. Northern also represented at Junior Team Tennis Nationals as Hastings (Minn.) won the 14U Intermediate Team Spirit/Sportsmanship Award and Colby Zak was the overall winner of the 14U Intermediate Boys Sportsmanship Award. Life Time Fitness – Bloomington South also was named the Team Spirit/Sportsmanship Award winner in the 18 Advanced tournament.

Section-wide, junior tournaments saw over 3,000 unique players participate in 2015. The Section also ran two Team USA Camps and four Early Development Camps, in addition to six Competition Training Centers. Over 200 Play Days were conducted in the Section, as well as five entry-level Level 8 events.

Team tennis continues to grow in the Section as almost 2,600 players registered for Junior Team Tennis and 283 teams competed. North Dakota saw a dramatic increase in JTT as it added two program seasons and unique participation was up 118%. For his efforts in ND, Oliver Summers was named the 2015 JTT Organizer of the Year. On the college level, the University of Minnesota finished second at the 2015 Tennis on Campus National Championships after winning its 12th consecutive USTA Northern Tennis on Campus title.

Over 11,300 players competed in USTA Northern Leagues, the highest number of players in the past five years. There was also a 7% increase in participation in the Twin Cities. USTA Northern put special emphasis on young adults in 2015, offering low-cost mixers, leagues and drop-in events. The Section worked with Twin Cities' Park and Rec programs to deliver tennis opportunities to beginning adult players and the Matchline program placed more than 760 people on USTA League teams.

USTA Northern had over 4,800 adult tournament registrations, and for the first-time, held the Men's 65 & Over Category I National Indoor Championships at Eden Prairie Life Time Athletic in August. Over 65 people participated in the event and David Nash (Bloomington, Minn.) won the doubles gold ball.

Membership within the Section stayed steady at 11,500 people and over 230 organizational members. The Section also developed a new volunteer database and created a Premier Provider Program which had five inaugural honorees including the University of Minnesota Baseline Tennis Center (Minneapolis, Minn.), Courts Plus Community Tennis (Fargo, N.D.), YMCA Indoor Tennis Center (Eau Claire, Wis.), Fred Wells Tennis & Education Center (St. Paul, Minn.) and the Sioux Falls Tennis Association (Sioux Falls, S.D.).

The Section and USTA National provided over $150,000 of support to organizations and individuals, including $23,000 in Community Tennis grants, $4,700 for blended lines, $12,400 in Equipment Grants, over $96,000 in Facility Assistance Funding and $33,000 in youth scholarships. USTA Northern and the Northern Tennis Foundation also entered into an exciting partnership with Youthprise, launching the Urban Youth Tennis & Education initiative. Youthprise has pledged a match of $125,000 to kickstart this campaign, and the USTA Foundation signed on as the first cornerstone supporter with a $50,000 contribution.

Although 2015 was a banner year, we are not done yet as there are many new opportunities on the agenda in 2016 including the Rally the Family initiative; a bigger presence on social media, especially on Instagram, and more one-day events for all age groups and ability levels.

We hope to see you on the courts!

Mike Goldammer

The year 2015 was BIG for USTA Northern. A survey by the Tennis Industry Association looked at the growth of tennis across the United States and the Northern Section showed more growth over a two-year period than any other USTA Section. A heartfelt thanks goes out to the many volunteers, junior and adult players, providers, officials and the USTA Northern staff for creating the right environment in making this happen.

This emergence reflects our mission which is "To promote and develop the growth of tennis" by focusing our time and resources on the strategic priorities established by the board and staff over the past two years. It also represents many new people "finding themselves in the game!"

Let's take a look back on some of the events which helped grow participation last year:

US Open Northern Section Qualifier – We had the highest participation ever for this event with USTA Northern members winning every championship, including Alexis Nelson who won the women's singles, women's doubles and mixed doubles titles.

National Senior Tennis Games – The University of Minnesota's Baseline Tennis Center hosted this event which was played for the first time in the Northern Section. Over 900 players participated in the two-week event and was the largest tournament ever hosted by the Baseline Tennis Center. Amazing!

National Public Parks Tournament – Sioux Falls, S.D., held the National Public Parks Championships for the first time at the many incredible park facilities it boasts.

Men's 65+ Category I National Championships – First the first time in 20 years, Eden Prairie Life Time Athletic hosted a USTA Category 1 tournament for men 65 and over. Participation soared from the previous year's event and our own David Nash won the gold ball in doubles.

Aquatennial Tennis Classic – USTA Northern and the downtown community helped celebrate the 20th Anniversary of the Aquatennial Tennis Classic.

Champions Series – The Champions Series returned to Minneapolis in 2015 as John McEnroe, Andy Roddick, James Blake and Michael Chang played to a large crowd at the Target Center.

Young Adult Leagues, Mixers and Drop-In Play – USTA Northern made special efforts to bridge the gap with the young adult group by developing low-cost leagues, mixers and drop-in play events around the Twin Cities. Many of these players went on to join USTA Leagues and play in adult tournaments.

Beginning Adult Park and Rec Programs – USTA Northern worked with the Minneapolis, Burnsville and Apple Valley Park and Rec Departments to deliver beginning adult programming.

Level 8 Tournaments and Play Days – Looking for more non-lesson play opportunities for junior players, the Section encouraged providers to offer organized Play Days and entry-level tournaments for both members and non-members.

40 and Over Mixed Doubles – We offered a new non-advancing League opportunity for our adults with 40 and Over Mixed Doubles.

Social Media – If you follow us on Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, YouTube or visit www.northern.usta.com, you noticed an increase in activity as the USTA Northern staff and Section members were posting from the thousands of events they attend throughout the year.

Off the court, we also had the opportunity to meet many tennis players and supporters throughout the Section. We assisted with the Grand Opening of the Huether Family Tennis Center – a beautiful new indoor facility in Sioux Falls. Over 500 people from the community came out to tour the new facility and participate in clinics with former ATP professional and special guest James Blake.

We also had a number of national award winners and national champions, a world record holder, a league player featured in the USTA's national "Find Yourself in The Game" campaign during the US Open and a special visit from the Director of the Grand Slam Tennis Board, Bill Babcock, as he was one of four people inducted into the USTA Northern Hall of Fame in October.

Yes, we are proud of our accomplishments, but we are not done looking for ways to grow tennis in our Section. A recently formed committee is looking at putting together travel packages to major tennis events for large groups and teams to travel and play. The construction of the new USTA National Campus in central Florida with over 100 courts and a variety of surfaces, including grass, clay and hard courts promises to be a perfect destination for Northern members – especially mid-winter! We also have big plans to Rally The Family at the tennis courts, run a number of one-day and modified events, as well as continue to increase our presence on social media in 2016.

I hope you continue to "find yourself in the game" in 2016 and I encourage you to invite your friends to participate in the sport of a lifetime full of fun, fitness and friends!

CONGRATULATIONS

2015 Award Winners

Jessie Aney Wins USTA Bill Talbert Junior Sportsmanship Award

Congratulations to Jessie Aney of Rochester, Minn., who was named one of two national winners of the USTA Bill Talbert Junior Sportsmanship Award given to a junior player who exemplifies the finest qualities of sportsmanship in tournament play and the finest traditions of the great sportspersons of tennis past and present. Aney and co-recipient Star Makarome of Wesley Chapel, Fla., were honored at the International Tennis Hall of Fame in Newport, R.I., in July, but Aney was unable to attend the ceremonies because she was still playing in the USTA National Clay Court Championships in Memphis, Tenn. Aney and Makarome were recognized again on September 7 at the USTA Awards Breakfast at the USTA Semiannual Meeting in New York City during the US Open.

"This is such an awesome award and I am really honored to receive it," Aney said. "Sportsmanship is a big deal for me when I am on the tennis court. Honestly, is the most important thing when I am playing a match. You always want to be a good person while you compete as your character stays with you forever. I would never sacrifice good sportsmanship just to win a match."

Aney, who is a freshman at the University of North Carolina, is the top-ranked 18-year-old in USTA Northern and currently ranks ninth nationally. Aney earned a bronze ball at the 2014 National Clay Courts and won the consolation championship this year. She also represented USTA Northern at the 2015 US Open National Playoffs in women's doubles with Alexis Nelson (St. Paul, Minn.). In 2014, Aney also competed at the US Open National Qualifier in women's singles, and in 2012 in mixed doubles. The past two years, she won a gold ball, going undefeated, at the USTA Spring Team Championships.

She has won numerous USTA Northern Section singles and doubles titles and was a bronze ball winner at the 2010 USTA Winter Nationals. In 2012, she won the Minnesota Class AA girls doubles championships with her sister, Katie, and in 2011, the Class AA singles title as an eighth grader. In 2015, she led her high school boys tennis team to a third-place finish at the state tournament where she was undefeated at the #1 singles position.

In 2010, Aney became the first girl to win the Sports Illustrated SportsKid of the Year award. She also is one of the best girls hockey players in the country. She was the top scorer in Minnesota high school hockey last season and was invited to attend the USA Hockey National Camp to try out for the USA National team before deciding to concentrate fully on tennis. She is also an accomplished pianist and is an active member of her church.

Aney has won a number of national sportsmanship awards over the years including being named the Girls 18s winner at the National Clay Court Championships in 2015. She also won the Girls 16s Interregionals and 18s National Clay Courts award in 2013, and in 2012, she won the 14s National Clay Courts Sportsmanship award. Aney was also the 2014 winner of the USTA Northern Jerry Noyce Sportsmanship Award.

To sum up Aney's incredible sportsmanship after playing a national tournament last summer in California, tournament referee Bonnie Middlebrook wrote this to the USTA Northern office about her.

"Jessie Aney is a superstar in my book. I had a lump in my throat as I spoke to her after the match expressing my amazement at her poise, maturity and demeanor. I do not know if I will ever meet this young lady again, but it was important to me that I acknowledge her sportsmanship in some way as I have never written a letter like this about any player who I have seen."

InnerCity Tennis

NAMED 2015 USTA CTA of the Year

InnerCity Tennis is honored at the 2015 USTA Tennis Development Workshop. (l to r): Former tennis great and USTA Foundation Chairman James Blake, ICT Executive Director John Wheaton, ICT Director of Education Song Thao and USTA National Chairman of the Board/President/CEO Katrina Adams.

The USTA selected the InnerCity Tennis Foundation of Minneapolis as the 2015 Community Tennis Association of the Year. The organization was honored at an awards banquet involving more than 600 community tennis leaders during the annual USTA Tennis Development Workshop, November 5-7, at the Sheraton San Diego in San Diego, Calif.

InnerCity Tennis becomes the first organization in USTA Northern history to receive the USTA National CTA of the Year Award as 2015 has been a banner year for the group. They were also named Tennis Industry magazine's Community Tennis Association of the Year as part of its Champions of Tennis Issue in January and was one of 13 facilities nationally to receive the USTA Outstanding Facility Award in September. The home of InnerCity Tennis, the Reed Sweatt Family Tennis Center in Minneapolis, also underwent a complete renovation with new bubbles, lights, courts, nets, air conditioning, offices, pro shop and reception area, while celebrating its new Best Buy 21st Century Classroom in July.

The InnerCity Tennis Foundation, founded in 1952, was designed to help young people with limited means to thrive physically, emotionally and socially through an involvement in tennis. More than 60 years later, the program is still going strong, serving nearly 4,000 youngsters with free and low-cost programming. Programming ranges from summer tennis at 23 parks across Minneapolis to free indoor programming in the winter, both onsite and in the Minneapolis schools. Recently the program has expanded its focus to serve the entire community after purchasing the Reed Sweatt Family Tennis Center, which averages more than 3,500 adult and junior check-ins each week. InnerCity Tennis depends on nearly 250 volunteers who spent approximately 2,750 hours on projects both on and off the court in 2014.

"The InnerCity Foundation in Minneapolis defines what it means to be a great CTA," said Kurt Kamperman, USTA Chief Executive of Community Tennis. "For more than six decades the tennis community in the Twin Cities has worked tirelessly to introduce children to tennis. We are proud to honor the organization's leaders and many volunteers with this well-deserved award."

"We see tennis as a vehicle to not only develop good players, but good individuals as well," said John Wheaton, Executive Director of the InnerCity Tennis Foundation.

The USTA CTA of the Year Award was established in 2002 to honor a CTA for outstanding service in growing and developing the sport of tennis in its community. The award recipient is selected from 17 nominees, one from each of the USTA sections, by a panel of USTA Community Tennis Association Development Committee members.

Reed Sweatt Named USTA Outstanding Facility

The USTA announced that the Reed Sweatt Family Tennis Center in Minneapolis is one of 13 winners in its 34th annual USTA Facility Awards Program, which recognizes excellence in the construction and/or renovation of tennis facilities throughout the country. Representatives from the Reed Sweatt Family Tennis Center were honored September 6 at the USTA Semiannual Meeting at the Grand Hyatt Hotel in New York City.

Reed Sweatt Family Tennis Center is home to an inspiring spectrum of diverse players from children to players in their late 90's. The facility welcomes some 3,500 players through its revolving doors each week with 1,210 court hours logged. Nestled in Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Park, part of the number one public park system in the nation, the Reed Sweatt Family Tennis Center supports free and low-cost programming to help unleash the potential of under-resourced youth.

Reed Sweatt Family Tennis Center is named in honor of the ICT founders Lachlan Reed and Harold Sweatt who created InnerCity Tennis in 1952 to provide opportunities for urban youth to thrive and prosper within the lifetime sport of tennis.

"Great tennis facilities like the Reed Sweatt Family Tennis Center help us grow the game at the grassroots level, and we are proud to recognize them for their ongoing impact on the sport of tennis," said Kurt Kamperman, Chief Executive, Community Tennis, USTA. "Reed Sweatt Family Tennis Center has embraced many of our tennis initiatives and kept the sport at the forefront of their community each year."

To be considered for an award, facilities must be under the jurisdiction of a parks and recreation department, an educational institution, a non-profit corporation, or be a private or commercially owned and operated facility that offer both USTA and public programming designed to help grow tennis.

Facilities were judged upon the following criteria: overall layout and adaptation to site; excellence of court surface and lights; ease of maintenance; accommodations for players, spectators and press/officials; aesthetics; graphics (including the use of signs and landscaping); amenities such as casual seating for spectators, food services and social areas; and the facilities' participation in USTA programs.

Nominated facilities were voted upon in the following categories: Public Courts that are either small tennis center with 2-10 courts or large tennis centers with 11 or more courts; Education Institutions; and Private Facilities that support the USTA and other "growth of the game" program open to the public.

All 2015 award winners received a wall plaque and an all-weather sign, which can be mounted at the facility. Certificates of award were made available to park and recreation departments, schools, and those professionals responsible for the design, construction, and maintenance of the facility. In addition, a one-year complimentary membership to the USTA was awarded to each winning facility.

6.0 55 & OVER MEN

WIN

NATIONALS

Congratulations to the 6.0 55 & Over men's team from the Twin Cities, captained by Eric Narvaez and Peter Haan, who won the 2015 USTA League Tennis National Championships October 25 in Surprise, Ariz., after defeating Northern California 2-1 in the finals.

After finishing fourth with match point on their racquets twice in 2014, the Northern team logically seemed like a favorite heading into this year's tournament, but not so according to Narvaez as they only returned three people to the roster from that team, and two of those players, Richard Branstner and Mark Duthoy did not travel due to injuries. Not only did the injury bug hit Northern, but they lost another team member, Don Crofut, to his 50th high school class reunion that weekend, and Narvaez, who was recovering from hip replacement surgery in early August, was playing in the men's 40 & Over 3.5 Nationals in Tucson, Ariz., (about 100 miles down Highway 10) that same weekend, leaving them with seven active players. Finally, Terry Kirihaara had just returned from Europe and feared that jet lag from that journey would hinder his play.

"We practiced outside every Saturday at St. Paul Academy, St. Catherine's and Macalester the past several months working on strategy, position and consistency," Narvaez said. "Our goal was to get to Sunday, but with all the injuries and our small roster, it seemed a bit lofty to be able to accomplish this."

Although undermanned, Northern won its round-robin flight 3-0, not losing an individual match on Friday and Saturday. Northern opened the tournament with a 3-0 win over Southern, followed by sweeps of Eastern and Missouri Valley. In the semifinals on Sunday, Northern remained undefeated taking out Texas, 3-0, setting up the title match against Northern California, who had won the championship in 2013 with many of the same players currently on its 2015 roster.

Against Nor Cal, the Northern team of Bob Brose and George

Kimball won at #1 doubles 6-0, 6-3, while the #2 team of Narvaez and Terry Sheehy lost a tough third-set match tiebreaker after taking the first set 6-3, setting up the deciding match at #3 doubles. In that match, Francois Nguyen and Eric Saugen had won the first set 6-0 and were leading 4-1 in the second before the Northern California twosome took a bathroom break. The Nor Cal duo changed up their strategy after the break, lobbing the Northern duo over and over again and taking the second set 7-5, sending it to a 10-point match tiebreaker for the championship.

Francois Nguyen celebrates match point giving Northern the championship.

In the match tiebreaker, Northern California raced out to an early lead, having multiple match points at 9-10 and 10-11 before Nguyen and Saugen fought back to even. Finally, with Northern up 12-11, Nguyen hit a great serve and Saugen, who is six-foot-three and was a volleyball star in his younger days, put an overhead away bouncing the ball over the fence and landing on the court behind them, giving Northern the hard-fought 2-1 victory.

"I was so stunned, I did not realize it was over until about 15 spectators ran onto the court giving us high fives," Nguyen said. "It was a spectacular scene!"

The win marked USTA Northern's first USTA League championship since Narvaez and Boy Toy's 3.5 Senior team won the crown in 2012, and with everything seemingly working against them, the championship was a big surprise.

"Honestly, it is amazing to me that we did so well this year," Narvaez said. "I did not expect it, nor did the rest of the team."

"It was such a thrilling and memorable experience," Nguyen said. "I've always been involved with my kids' tennis, but never experienced anything like this myself. Not just having the national title, but the way we won it. Our team was not that strong, but we had the chemistry and strong will to win and we achieved it. It made it such a sweet and great feeling that I will carry with me for the rest of my life."

THE 2015 USTA Northern Hall of Fame Class

USTA Northern inducted four new members into its Hall of Fame on Friday, Oct. 2, at The Minneapolis Club including Director of the Grand Slam Board Bill Babcock (originally of Minneapolis, Minn., and now of London, England); standout player and volunteer Fred Budde (Eagan, Minn.); player, coach and volunteer John Mueller (Minneapolis, Minn.), who was inducted posthumously; and high school coaching legend Steve Paulsen (Apple Valley, Minn.).

Bill Babcock

Currently the Director of the Grand Slam Tennis Board and living in London, England, Bill Babcock was the #1 singles player for Washburn High School in Minneapolis and played Division I tennis at Harvard. He went on to play Pro Circuits in Europe, South America, Asia and Australia, while still playing in local tournaments in the Twin Cities.

A USPTA professional since 1972, Babcock earned his law degree from the University of California-Hastings in San Francisco and went on to work with Oppenheimer Law Firm in Minneapolis. During that time, he was a teaching professional at Interlachen Country Club (1968-79) in Edina, Minn., worked on various committees for USTA Northern and was the Vice President of the organization in 1985.

It was then that Babcock accepted his first international position with the Men's Professional Tennis Council in New York City. Next, he was hired by the International Tennis Federation (ITF) in 1989 and later became Executive Director of the Davis Cup and Men's Tennis before overseeing all professional tournaments, in addition to serving as Administrator of the Grand Slam Committee. In 2011, he became Director of the Grand Slam Board and currently represents the Grand Slams on the ITF's Tennis Anti-Doping Programme and is the Grand Slam Professional Tennis Integrity Officer on the Tennis Anti-Corruption Programme.

His tennis resume is broad and robust as he has either been involved or currently works with a variety of aspects of the game including Grand Slam Rules, Regulations and Code of Conduct, Davis Cup, Rules of Tennis, Men's Future's Tournaments, ITF Circuit Rules, Regulations and Code of Conduct, Grand Slam legal contracts with the IFT, ATP, WTA and other third parties, the Grand Slam and Tennis Masters Cups, the Grand Slam Development Fund and Grand Slam Trademark registration and enforcement.

Fred Budde

Fred Budde of Eagan, Minn., is one of the most accomplished players to come out of USTA Northern amassing 57 #1 sectional rankings – the most of any player in the history of the Section. A high school (1974) and junior college state champion (1976-77) with partner Kelly Tritz, Budde went on to play Division I tennis at Iowa State. He was inducted in to the Riverland Community College Hall of Fame in 2003.

Budde has achieved success at every level including eight national championships and numerous top-20 national rankings. He was ranked #1 in 25 singles and doubles in USTA Southern Alabama and has been ranked #1 in USTA Northern in Open, 35, 40, 45, 50 and 55. He also was #5 in the country in 55 doubles in 2012. He has won 37 Section championships over the years and is a five-time Pine Tree Apple Tennis Classic champion and six-time National Public Parks champion.

Originally from Austin, Minn., Budde has captained over 20 USTA League Tennis teams and has played on one or more league teams every year since 1985. His team won the 5.0 National Championships in 1996, and he captained the 35 Intersectional team to the National Championship in 1997.

Also an avid volunteer with USTA Northern, Budde contributed on court as a youth and then served on the Adult Tournament Committee for 10 years. He was the mastermind behind the computerization of tournaments for the Section and modeling tournaments after the USTA National format. He also assisted in determining tournament play grievances, fundraising for tournament play and modifying the economic model for the sanctioning of USTA Northern Tournaments.

Budde has also grown tennis in the community locally as he was

John Mueller was inducted posthumously after passing away on January 9, 2014, after a long battle with diabetes. Mueller, who started playing tennis at the age of 8, played number one singles at Augsburg College in Minneapolis, before serving in the Army and then coming back to play in the top spot at St. Cloud State University in St. Cloud, Minn.

Mueller started his teaching career as the Tennis Director at Golden Valley Country Club over 40 years ago, and later served as a Tennis Pro and Tennis Director for the Northwest Athletic Clubs. He also was the boys and girls tennis coach at Armstrong High School in Robbinsdale, Minn.

He took tremendous pride in being the unofficial historian for USTA Northern, spending countless hours researching tennis players from the Section. He was a three-time chair of the Hall of Fame Committee and responsible for inducting a long-list of deserving male and female tennis players from around the Section into the Hall.

He served honorably in the Vietnam War as a member of the Military Police in Thailand. While overseas, he taught and played tennis on the military base.

He also had a special love for fishing and hunting, especially with his family near Park Rapids, Minn. After Mueller's passing, an anonymous donor made a $5,000 donation in his memory to the Park Rapids Community Tennis Association. The CTA is continuing his legacy by helping fund the boys high school tennis team, running summer leagues and starting recreational programs for players from lower income neighborhoods and those with special needs.

Steve Paulsen

Steve Paulsen of Apple Valley, Minn., is arguably the best girls high school tennis coach, not only in Minnesota, but United States history. Currently the head coach at Edina High School in Edina, Minn., Paulsen has led the Hornet girls to a national record 19 consecutive Minnesota state team titles (1997-current) and has lost only four team matches during that time. He was named the National High School Coach of the Year in 2007 and has coached numerous Minnesota singles and doubles champions including Whitney Taney, who was named the 2007 National Senior Girls Tennis Player of the Year. Paulsen also coached boys high school tennis at Edina where he led the Hornets to three state titles and at Eastview High School in Apple Valley.

An outstanding player, Paulsen played college tennis for St. Olaf College, advancing to the NCAA Division III Championships three times and earning All-America honors in 1984. He was a two-time team Most Valuable Player and was inducted into the St. Olaf Hall of Fame in 2000 and the Northfield Hall of Fame in 2015. He also has been ranked #1 in USTA Northern numerous times in men's doubles and was a member of the 35 Intersectional Team that won the National Championship in 1997. Arthur Ashe Essay Contest

Christian Ruas of Minneapolis, Minn., and the Fred Wells Tennis and Education Center in St. Paul, Minn., was named a national winner of the 2015 USTA Foundation's Arthur Ashe Essay Contest for the Boys 18s division. Ruas received an all-expense paid trip for him and a guest to New York City where they attended the 2015 Arthur Ashe Kids Day on August 28, as well as toured New York City and were honored at a luncheon with former New York City Mayor David Dinkins.

This year's contest focused on one of the co-founders of National Junior Tennis & Learning program, Charlie Pasarell, and asked the question, "Who is a local NJTL hero in your community that resembles what Mr. Pasarell has done through NJTL?" Here is Ruas' winning essay:

"Athletes should not only be skilled at their sport, but also be willing to give their all to help others in that sport. Whether that be children who wanted to begin playing that sport or helping a whole community, or even a whole nation or the entire world. These traits of an athlete have never been better exemplified than by the Puerto Rican tennis player Charles Pasarell. Pasarell was not only gifted, winning many tournaments, but also being one of the founders of the NJTL, whose goal is to help children not only succeed on the court but also in life. The person I feel shares traits with Pasarell is my coach from Fred Wells Tennis & Education Center, Austin Lehman.

Austin is not only a skilled tennis player, but he is one of the best coaches I have ever had. He has been there for me the past nine years. He is one of my biggest inspirations and I aspire to become at least half as good as coach as he is. Throughout the years, he has made me a better player and better person. Not only is he an incredible coach, he is also not afraid to try new things and create new activities for his athletes.

Austin created a new leadership program called Boys Leadership Team. As the name suggests, we are taught leadership skills that we can take with us for the rest of our lives. Not only do we do things related to tennis, but Austin also branched out and brought amazing spoken-word artists to teach the members of boys' leadership about spoken word. It was an incredible experience, and it raised my respect for Austin to a whole new level.

Austin is truly someone I respect and admire. He is kind, fun and just about everything about him is good. He is always smiling and energetic. He is my choice for local NJTL hero, and I do not think anyone else deserves the honor more than him."

Gustavus Adolphus A was named the Team Spirit winner for the weekend.

The team is coached by Kevin Rust, captained by Jeffrey Adolf (Gr.) and made up of Salam Bachour (So.), Giselle Beebe (Fr.), Laura Cattaneo (Fr.), Daniel Cooper (Gr.), Kelsey Frechette (Jr.), Omar Shahed (Jr.) and Sofia Terzic (Fr.).

Gustavus Named 2015 TOC Club of the Year

Growing from only 12 members at the start of 2014, to 27 by the Section Championships, and hosting two events were the tip of the iceberg for the 2015 USTA Northern Tennis On Campus Club of the Year - Gustavus Adolphus College.

The Gustavus program, led by club president Mark Meier, has become a well-known and respected club on campus this year after making it a priority to have a presence at all student information fairs and gatherings. It is also a No-Cut program, meaning any student who wishes to be a part of the fun, can and will be on the team. Current team members are strongly encouraged to bring friends to practices and social outings in hopes they might one day become members of the team as well.

"Our program is an incredible place for students to play tennis and enjoy the community feel of students playing a sport they are passionate about, while encouraging each other to improve," junior Hannah Jakel wrote in her nomination of the team.

While improving the quality of players on their roster with some former varsity and even state high school participants this year, practices are now more efficient and productive, not only helping the team improve on specific skills, but also become better overall players, while still having fun.

"I have vastly improved this year under the direction of members who are of a higher skill level," Jakel said. "I appreciate how willing and patient everyone is to share their knowledge with other members of the team as there is no discrimination between skill sets."

Gustavus hosted its first two Invitationals in school history this year – a fall event in September and a warm-up event for the 2015 Section Championships. Showing its progress as an up-and-coming program, Gustavus was sixth overall with 130 points during the Fall Campus Series. The Gusties also fielded two teams at the Tennis On Campus Section Championships in March, where they had one team each in the Gold and Silver Brackets.

The team has also improved its communications efforts this year staying connected through Facebook, e-mail and text, and is involved in many social activities from planning meals to group bonding after practices. There is no member excluded from these events.

"The level of closeness is a unique experience exclusive to club tennis here on campus," Jakel said. "It is one of my favorite activities to be a part of here at Gustavus."

Mark Meier Named TOC Leader of the Year

A sign of a good leader is that he has a presence about him when he enters a room. Gustavus Adolphus Tennis on Campus Club President Mark Meier is no exception. Always wearing the Gustavus flag on his back at every tournament, with some gold and black face paint to complete the look, Meier has brought pride and unparalleled success back to the Gusties' TOC program.

This year, 15 new members – who are all freshman and sophomores – joined the team, doubling the size of the roster. Almost all of the players have competed at the varsity level in high school and some have even participated at the state tournament. Even with this influx of talent, he still adopted a No-Cut policy meaning that anyone who is interested in being a part of the team can, and will get to, play. And just to show he is all about what is best for each individual player over the team, Meier encouraged two of his stronger players to try out for the nationally-ranked Gustavus men's varsity program – a selfless move on his part when trying to build a competitive program.

He also encourages sportsmanship and reminds the team about having a positive attitude and representing Gustavus with the highest of class. Both Gustavus teams won the Team Spirit Award at Section Championships.

Meier has spent countless hours working on the program since becoming president in September including recruiting, fundraising, making travel plans, arranging transportation and communicating with his team and other club leaders both at Gustavus and within USTA Northern. His hard work has paid off as Gustavus was named the 2015 USTA Northern Tennis on Campus Club of the Year as well.

"Our president is a leader of both spirit and passion for the sport," junior Hannah Jakel said. "His encouragement and coaching pushes the team to be the best they can be. From wearing the Gustavus flag at all of our tournaments and chanting our school cheer before every match, to individual advice on our technique and motivation, he has done wonders for the members of our program."

Charlie Boone Minneapolis, Minn., 88

A USTA Northern Hall of Famer and avid tennis player, Charlie Boone was the voice of morning radio in Minnesota for over 40 years as part of the Boone & Erickson show on WCCO Radio. He was an active volunteer with USTA Northern until his death and was always the first media member to talk about tennis on air. He played tennis daily at the Fred Wells Tennis & Education Center in St. Paul well into his late 80s until pulmonary fibrosis prevented him from taking the court. He was inducted into the USTA Northern Hall of Fame in 2001 and hosted many USTA Northern banquets and special events.

Boone served on the Board at the Fred Wells Tennis & Education Center and was a great advocate for growing the game of tennis. He was instrumental in establishing the foundation at FWTEC.

Steve Wilkinson St. Peter, Minn., 73

Steve Wilkinson, longtime men's tennis coach at Gustavus Adolphus College, founder of Tennis and Life Camps and USTA Northern Hall of Famer, passed away at the age of 73 after courageously living with cancer for nearly seven years.

Wilkinson spent 39 years (1971-2009) at the helm of the Gustavus men's tennis program. His teams compiled 929 wins overall, the most victories in the history of collegiate men's tennis. Wilkinson's squads won two NCAA Division III titles (1980 and 1982) as well as 35 Minnesota Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (MIAC) titles. His teams compiled an overall record of 929-278 (.769) and an MIAC mark of 334-1 (.997). In addition, his players claimed six national doubles titles, and four national singles titles. He coached 46 players to 87 ITA All-America honors, 103 players to 226 All-Conference honors, and five CoSIDA Academic All-Americans. He was named NAIA National Coach of the Year twice (1974 and 1984) and Intercollegiate Tennis Association Division III Coach of the Year three times (1982, 2001, and 2003).

Along with his wife, Barbara, Wilkinson founded Tennis and Life Camps in 1977. For more than 35 years, the couple impacted generations of tennis enthusiasts by dedicating their lives to improving tennis performance of youth and adults and teaching life skills that can be used on and off the court. The Wilkinsons gifted Tennis and Life Camps to the College in 2010, ensuring that the camp's legacy will be felt at Gustavus for decades to come. Steve and Barb also created an endowed position at Gustavus in sports ethics and men's tennis, which is currently held by head men's tennis coach Tommy Valentini.

Wilkinson also played a key role in the fundraising and construction of the Gustavus tennis facilities, which are considered to be among the finest in the nation.

Wilkinson was an outstanding player in his own right. He played No. 1 singles at the University of Iowa and was one of the best players in the Big Ten. After college, Wilkinson played competitive tennis for many years and was ranked No. 1 in the United States in the 45, 50, 55 and 60-and-over divisions. He represented the United States in the Dubler Cup, Perry Cup and Austria Cup competitions, winning the world championship in Montevideo, Uruguay in 1989 and finishing second in Berlin, Germany, in 1992.

Wilkinson was involved in numerous national tennis organizations, serving on the executive committees of the United States Professional Tennis Association (USPTA), the Intercollegiate Tennis Association (ITA), and the United States Tennis Association (USTA). He was inducted into the U.S. Professional Tennis Association's Hall of Fame, the Intercollegiate Tennis Association's Hall of Fame, the Gustavus Athletics Hall of Fame, the USTA Missouri Valley Hall of Fame, the Northern Tennis Association Hall of Fame, and the Iowa Tennis Hall of Fame. He received the International Tennis Hall of Fame's Tennis Educational Merit Award and The Lifetime Achievement Award from the University of Iowa. The ITA and the Pine Tree Apple Tennis Classic both renamed Sportsmanship Awards after Wilkinson in 2015.

Percy Hughes Minneapolis, Minn., 93

Percy Hughes did not start working with tennis until he was well into his 60s. Among his many contributions was serving as the first teacher of the Twin Cities Senior Tennis Players Club, which is the largest organized group of senior tennis players in the United States. After becoming a USPTA certified teaching professional well into his 60s, Hughes taught weekly lessons for the Senior Tennis Players Club for over 20 years, while also organizing tennis tournaments and social outings for the group.

Enduring three hip surgeries himself, one of Hughes' greatest offerings was teaching senior players how to work with their existing bodies and showing them how to deal with the limitations they have. This allowed seniors the opportunity to play the game longer.

Hughes was inducted into the Senior Tennis Players Club Hall of Fame in 1989, and the USTA Northern Hall of Fame in 2003. He was the 1988 and 2004 recipient of the USTA Northern Jack Dow Senior Development Award and was the winner of the USTA National Senior Service Award in 2007. He also wrote a monthly column called Percy's Tennis Rhythms for Senior Tennis Times.

Besides his tennis contributions, Percy was a national jazz legend, having his own band called the Ellington Echoes. He played with such jazz greats as Duke Ellington and Count Basie. He was also a member of both the Minnesota Jazz and Minnesota Music Halls of Fame.
