TEXAS SECTION YEARBOOK

USTA TEXAS - 2012 YEAR IN REVIEW

Pushing past the 58,000-member mark, Texas once again stands out among the USTA sections – finishing as one of the fastest growing sections in 2012. As the third-largest of the 17 USTA sections, Texas (with its partner USPTA Texas), was honored as the 2012 Division of the Year (Large Division) for the ninth consecutive year by the United States Professional Tennis Association (USPTA).

The Courts at Gabe Nesbitt Community Park in McKinney was named the 2012 USTA Featured Facility Award for public courts, and the Houston Tennis Association was named the USTA National CTA of the Year. With strong local influence, empowered by the Texas Community Tennis Association Expansion Plan, the state's 18 "Qualified" CTA's run league, JR. Team Tennis, 10 and Under and other community programs.

A leader in 10 and Under Tennis, Texas registered 99,864 Kids' Club instances of play with 4,161 participants in 258 nationally registered Kids' Clubs for 2012. Holding 393 Play Day events, the section hosted over 10,425 Play Day participants. The section has 43 approved 10 and Under facilities and has hosted 30 Endorsed 10 and Under Series Events and 10 national workshops.

There were 63,336 junior tournament entries in 2012, and Jr. Team Tennis set a new all-time mark with 7,100 registered players. Texas teams won the USTA JTT National Championships as the Austin Tennis Academy won the 14U and 18U Advanced titles.

In 2012, Texas featured three USTA Certified Regional Training Centers and hosted six Regional Player Development Camps.

The Texas Junior Davis Cup Team won the USTA Boys' 18s National Championships for the second consecutive year. Texas won first and second at the USTA Boys & Girls 12 Zone Team Championships; second and third in 14s and second in 16s. USTA honored Mitchell Krueger with the Junior Scholar-Athlete Award, and Josh Hagar won the Bill Talbert Junior Sportsmanship Award given by the International Tennis Hall of Fame.

The Central Texas Tennis Association was honored as one of the USTA NJTL Chapter of the Year winners. Halle Brazda was a national Arthur Ashe Essay and Art Contest winner. Texas' statewide NJTL Kid's Days were led by Houston with 652 participants, followed by Dallas' 250 and Austin's 125.

USTA Texas experienced a record number of league participants with 59,498 players and teams winning USTA national titles: Dallas 3.0 Adult Women; San Antonio 3.0 Senior Women; Tyler 6.0 Super Seniors and a second-place finish by the Dallas 8.0 team at the Senior Mixed National Invitational.

One hundred unique Texas teams from 33 colleges participated in Tennis On Campus tournaments. The campus championships hosted 80 teams and 600 players.

The University of Texas placed second at the USTA Tennis On Campus Spring Invitational.

The Wheelchair Run/Roll Series continues as one-day events with top players earning berths to the Invitational. Texas native and wheelchair legend Randy Snow was inducted into the International Tennis Hall of Fame. The section introduced tennis to 297 participants at the State Summer Games of Texas Special Olympics and at the National Dwarf Games.

APRIL 2013

2012 Texas Tennis Hall Of Fame Inductees

Lee LeClear

Lee LeClear was born in Chicago in 1918. He graduated high school at Riverside Brookfield High School and attended college at San Diego State. He taught himself tennis in Chicago when he was young. In Corpus Christi, he taught private lessons. After moving to Houston, he became the assistant pro at River Oaks Country Club. He had 30 years of experience with the City of Houston Parks & Recreation. He helped open and manage the MacGregor Park Tennis Center and later moved to open the Southwest Tennis Center in Houston as a manager and head pro. His meaningful tennis memories include: Junior Davis Cup, being a charter member of USPTA, the Bluebonnet Tennis Tournament, coaching at the University of Houston, opening MacGregor Park Tennis and SW Tennis. He is survived by Patti LeClear and six children, William, Charles, Bradley, Gigi, Suzanne, and Allison. He has 15 grandchildren and several great-grandchildren.

John E. Peterson

John Peterson was born in Omaha, Neb. He attended Buena Vista College and received a Bachelor of Arts in English. His coaches include Van Philips and John Naughton. He first played tennis in the summer of 1968 after noticing how much fun players were having on the tennis courts that were next to the football practice facility where he had been coaching. He was drafted into coaching tennis in the winter of 1975-1976. In addition to being the football, basketball and track coach, he became the tennis coach at Nimitz Middle School in San Antonio. His favorite memories are of taking students to championships in middle school and junior college. His wife is Dorothy Peterson, and he has two children, Angela and Wyatt.

Jack Sampson

Jack Sampson was born in Chicago in 1891 and was an accomplished football player under legendary Univ. of Chicago coach Amos Alonzo Stagg. After college, Jack took up tennis and became an accomplished player and coach of his two daughters, Jeannie and Jayne. As Jeannie Kamrath's father, Jack was asked to move to Houston and began running the fledgling Houston Tennis Patrons in 1952 to promote tennis, tournaments for all age groups, good sportsmanship and junior tennis throughout Houston. He also help develop highly ranked Houston junior tennis players resulting in Houston having more nationally ranked players in 1961 than any other American city. The Houston Tennis Patrons became the Houston Tennis Association and periodically awards the J. J. Sampson Tennis Service Award.

Jeannie Kamrath-Gonzalez

Jeannie Sampson was born in 1912 in Chicago and learned to play tennis with the coaching of her father, Jack Sampson. She became the top ranked Mid-Western player in the late 1920's and early 1930's and met her future husband, Karl Kamrath. After extensive tennis travel she attended the University of Texas where she was invited to play on the men's varsity courts by Penick because 'of the force and severity of her ground strokes' -- the first woman player to be so invited. Jeannie played in the first, Houston Tennis Invitational Tournament in 1931 at River Oaks. She reached the finals of that tournament in 1932, 1933 and 1934. In 1937, she became the first teaching tennis professional at the Houston and River Oaks Country Clubs. With her father she initiated the first, free city wide tennis clinics at park tennis courts in Houston. On Dec. 29, 2012, she celebrated her 100th birthday.

Hugh Sweeney

Hugh Sweeney was born in Shreveport, La., in 1928, Byrd High School but spent all of his life after high school in Texas and went to college at the University of Houston. His coaches include Bob Nesmith and John Hoff of Houston. His greatest tennis accomplishments included: qualifying for and playing in the Wimbledon Championships and the U.S. National Championships; winning the "Big Three" in the same year the Houston Open, the Fall Festival, and the TAAF Championships; and being able to play and be successful on the International Tennis Circuit, the U.S. Open. Hugh brought the Virginia Slims Tournament to Houston and built the "Net Set Racquet Club" known today as the "Westside Tennis Club". Teaming up with Lamar Hunt, he brought the WCT end of year championships to Houston.

TEXAS TENNIS AND EDUCATION FOUNDATION

The Texas Tennis Foundation promotes health and education through tennis by providing assistance to Texas players and organizations. Your donation will help others who cannot otherwise afford to play the game. You can help to send a player to college, buy a wheelchair, or simply hold a racket in their hand and take it home. Learn how your tax-deductible gift can help at:

THE PRESIDENT'S ADVANTAGE

By Dan Barta

PRESIDENT - USTA TEXAS

PRESENTED BY

www.texasennishotels.com

Volunteers, Events Contribute to Texas Tennis Success

By the time you read this, the weather will begin to cooperate allowing us to enjoy our myriad of tennis activities. We will also have had our USTA Texas Section Annual meeting. This meeting is the first opportunity for volunteers and staff to come together to plan activities and initiatives for the coming year. These volunteer committees provide valuable input into program planning as well as managing the on-going activities offered by the Section and Community Tennis Associations (CTAs) across the state.

As a new President, it was exciting to see all the new faces. Due to a new application process, we had approximately 400 applications for 200 volunteer positions.

With such great interest, we were able to involve a number of new volunteers at the Section level. Sitting in on numerous committee meetings, I was excited to see all the enthusiasm and energy these volunteers displayed. Great new ideas and perspectives made for fruitful discussion. Thank you to each volunteer for the time and talent they contribute to USTA Texas.

Two professional tennis events have occurred since the beginning of the year. First, the Challenger of Dallas was contested at T Bar M Racquet Club. The Dallas Tennis Association is a beneficiary of this tournament including fundraising and an opportunity to showcase the Dallas Slam Jammers. These young adults get an opportunity to see professional tennis up close.

In another professional move, Irving has become the home of the Texas Wild World Team Tennis (WTT) franchise. The team will play a three-week season after Wimbledon with their home matches at the Four Seasons Resort and Club in Las Colinas. Both of these professional events, as well as the Men's Clay Courts in Houston and the numerous other professional satellite tournaments that are contested within the Section throughout the year provide opportunities for our Section and CTAs to partner in our mission to grow the game of tennis. I believe the opportunities are endless.

You have probably noticed that this is our annual yearbook edition that includes the rankings and ratings of our numerous adult and junior competitors. It is always fun to browse the ranking lists to see those you know, have played and maybe have victories over (or maybe, like myself, just an infamous "indirect win"! Congratulations to all those who were ranked in the various categories. It's certainly a great achievement to be recognized as one of the top players in a Section with the depth of tennis quality and talent that Texas has.

Make time to get out and enjoy our great game this spring!!

KENNY Mc'S CORNER

By Ken McAllister
EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR - USTA TEXAS

PRESENTED BY

The past few months of concern by tennis parents over rule changes at the section and national level make the article that I wrote two years ago even more important now. Therefore, we are running this article again.

When You Disagree

A few years ago, I wrote an article called "Who Runs the Show?" It basically explained that USTA Texas is a volunteer-run organization such that elected volunteer committees establish the rules and policies, and the staffs' charge is to implement and enforce them. Our Member Organizations elect the members of the Executive Committee, who do all other elections and appointments. Reading the Constitution, By-laws, and Standing Orders has the excitement of watching paint dry. Yet when the results of these rules and regulations affect a parent's child or anyone's participation in Texas tennis, it becomes important to take the time.

In my never-to-be-humble opinion, Texas volunteers, who take the time to go to meetings and make decisions, are the most innovative and conscientious among USTA Section volunteers. That certainly does not imply that everyone agrees with the volunteer decisions. Even though many decisions have been made in recent years to streamline the process of change, it is still a process. The question that this article will try to address is "What can I do if I am not among the elected volunteers, and I have an issue with a rule or policy?"

After you have accepted the fact that no one person has dictatorial power to change or make exceptions to the rules, I recommend the following steps:

Contact the staff person responsible for the program for which you are concerned. You may find that on our website, www.texas.usta.com, tab 'About Us' and click on 'Staff'.

Determine whether satisfaction can be achieved within current rules (i.e. a mistake has been made and therefore adjustments are possible).

If not, ask who has the responsibility of this rule and get an address (we do not give phone numbers). This will usually be the Chair of one of our 25 committees, but each committee also has a Vice-Chair and a Responsible Officer from the Management Committee.

Make an initial contact with the volunteer leader with your question, concern, or suggestion. Our staff can help with the initial contact if you wish.

Hopefully, you will achieve satisfaction at this stage. If not, your recourse is to present your views and suggestions to the responsible committee. This is often the time to assemble support so that the committee understands that more people agree with your concerns. Be clear with your suggestion for a desired result.

Ninety-five percent of all concerns are solved in steps one and two. Positive and constructive approaches have the best chance to succeed after steps three through five. After all, these volunteers are working to make Texas' systems the best in the country, and your suggestion may be the correct one. Most of our changes happen this way.

The frustration in an organization like ours is the time it takes to make changes. The positive side to that is that it ensures that caring volunteers have the final say rather than a bureaucratic staff. All of us would like to have quicker decisions provided that they agree with our position. We prefer the more democratic approach...which is what USTA Texas has.

I invite you to respond by contacting me at KMcallister@texas.usta.com. For more detail, see our Rules and Regulations under the 'About Us' tab at www.texas.usta.com.
